

Is Michael for real?

SEXOLOGIST and relationship expert Dr Nikki Goldstein says she sees a strong connection between Sam and Michael on The Bachelorette - but is unsure of his sincerity.

"He's the one who, from the word go, has been the perfect gentleman," she told Confidential.

"He has that old fashioned dating etiquette which I love, and men need to do more of. However he seems very aware of the cameras, he seems to know how to show the 'good guy'. I think he will be there until the end, but not necessarily who she will pick."

Dr Goldstein, who recently released a relationship book titled #singlebutdating, said one of the problems of the show was the expectation of finding a long-term partner.

"I'm sure we could all fall in love in a situation like that - there's a lot of smoke and mirrors."

Sam can't pick
like his smart
that's all I like

go. He is like the Nazi uni-
that isn't a